ARTICLES

EQUITY: TOO SUCCESSFUL?

Hon Justice W M C Gummow AC

The author considers the importance of the teaching of equity in law schools and the pace of development of equitable doctrine, with particular reference to recent decisions of the High Court of Australia and the House of Lords concerning unconscientious behaviour, injunctions, Quistclose trusts and Romalpa clauses, fiduciary duties and confidential information. Consideration also is given to the significance of equity practice for the academic debate respecting “discretionary remedialism”..... 30

ARE LAWYERS LEMONS?: COMPETITION PRINCIPLES AND PROFESSIONAL REGULATION

Hon J J Spigelman AC

The Chief Justice discusses the development of information economics, its relevance to the legal profession and its implications for the application of competition principles to the profession. The regulation of legal practice may be based on either a business paradigm or a professional paradigm. There are signs of a shift towards the latter..... 44

REASONS FOR JUDGMENT: SOME CONSUMER PERSPECTIVES

Enid Campbell

This article draws attention to the costs which can attend presentation of lengthy reasons for judgment (including multiple separate opinions) from the perspectives of those whose work involves close study of the reasons. These consumer perspectives are, broadly: (a) Those of litigants and their legal advisers; (b) Those involved in the publication of reports of judicial decisions, or digests of them; (c) Judges, who, in the course of judicial proceedings before them, find it necessary to read and analyse reasons for decision given by other judges in prior cases; (d) Teachers and students of law, and authors of legal texts and articles; and (e) Journalists whose reports of judicial decisions are destined for publication by mass media..... 62

Manuscript

- Submission of a manuscript will be held to imply that it is original, unpublished work and has not been submitted for publication elsewhere.
- Personal details (name, qualifications, position) for publication and a delivery address, email address and phone number must be included with the manuscript.
- Manuscript must be submitted electronically via email or on disk in Microsoft Word format.
- Manuscript should not exceed 10,000 words for articles or 1,500-2,000 words for section commentary or book reviews.
- An abstract of 100-150 words is to be submitted with article manuscripts.
- Proof pages will be sent to contributors. Authors are responsible for the accuracy of case names, citations and other references. Excessive changes to the text cannot be accommodated.
- Contributors of articles receive 25 free offprints of their article and a copy of the part in which the article is published. Other contributors receive a copy of the part to which they have contributed.

Style

1. Levels of headings should be clearly indicated (no more than four levels).

2. Cases

- Case citation follows case name. Where a case is cited in the text, the citation should follow immediately rather than as a footnote.
- Give at least two and preferably all available citations, the first listed being the authorised reference.
- Australian citations should appear in the following order: authorised series; Lawbook Co./ATP series; other company series (ie, CCH, Butterworths); media neutral citation.
- “At” references should only refer to the best available citation, eg: Mabo v Queensland [No 2] (1992) 175 CLR 1 at 34; 66 ALJR 408; 107 ALR 1.
- Where only a media neutral citation is available, “at” references should be to paragraph, eg: YG & GG v Minister for Community Services [2002] NSWCA 247 at [19].
- For international cases best references only should be included.

3. Legislation should be cited as follows:

Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth), s 51AC. The full citation should be repeated in footnotes.

4. Books

- Books should be cited as follows: Macken JJ, O’Grady P, Sappideen C and Warburton G, The Law of Employment (5th ed, Lawbook Co., 2002), p 55.
- In footnotes do not use ibid or op cit. The following style is preferred:
 - 4. Austin RP, “Constructive Trusts” in Finn PD (ed), Essays in Equity (Law Book Co, 1985).
 - 5. Austin, n 4, p 56.

5. Journals

- Journal articles should be cited as follows (wherever possible use official abbreviations not the full name for journal titles): Odgers S, “Police Interrogation: A Decade of Legal Development” (1990) 14 Crim LJ 220.
- In footnotes do not use ibid or op cit. The following style is preferred:
 - 6. Sheehy EA, Stubbs J and Tolmie J, “Defending Battered Women on Trial: The Battered Woman Syndrome and its Limitations” (1992) 16 Crim LJ 220.
 - 7. Sheehy et al, n 6 at 221.

6. Internet citations

- Cite internet publication as for any other document, with URL underlined in angle brackets, and date the document was viewed, eg: Ricketson S, The Law of Intellectual Property: Copyright, Designs and Confidential Information (Lawbook Co., subscription service) at [16.340], <http://subscriber.lawbookco.com.au> viewed 25 June 2002.
