ARTICLESLAW REFORM, HUMAN RIGHTS AND MODERN GOVERNANCE: AUSTRALIA’S
DEBT TO LORD SCARMAN*Hon Justice Michael Kirby AC CMG

Leslie Scarman was one of the most influential judges of the 20th century. His influence on Australian law came chiefly from his judicial decisions and his work in establishing the Law Commission as a template for Australian law reform agencies. He was a leading proponent of the Human Rights Act 1998 (UK). The author suggests that this too has lessons for Australia given the imperfections of our governance that Scarman helped to identify.	299

CAUSATION AND REMOTENESS UNDER THE TRADE PRACTICES ACTDavid Wright

Causation and remoteness are common to most areas of law, including the Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth). However, they remain complicated. One reason why these concepts are complicated is that certain subjective judgments are introduced. The changes introduced following the Ipp Report did not alter this fundamental point, rather, the role of particular subjective judgments was entrenched. But recently the High Court has limited the operation of the Ipp Report’s recommendations and, certainly within the Trade Practices Act, has attempted to give some objective measure to the existing subjective judgments required. However, it has proposed utilising a different subjective judgment.	316

Letters to the Editor

By submitting a letter to the editor of this journal for publication, you agree that Thomson Legal & Regulatory Limited, trading as Lawbook Co, may edit and has the right to, and may license third parties to, reproduce in electronic form and communicate the letter.

Manuscript

- Manuscript must be original, unpublished work that has not been submitted for publication elsewhere.
- Personal details (name, qualifications, position) for publication and a delivery address, email address and phone number must be included with the manuscript.
- Manuscript must be submitted electronically via email or on disk in Microsoft Word format.
- Manuscript should not exceed 10,000 words for articles or 1,500-2,000 words for section commentary or book reviews. An abstract of 100-150 words is to be submitted with article manuscripts.
- Proof pages will be sent to contributors. Authors are responsible for the accuracy of case names, citations and other references. Excessive changes to the text cannot be accommodated.
- Contributors of articles receive 25 free offprints of their article and a copy of the part in which the article is published. Other contributors receive a copy of the part to which they have contributed.
- This Journal complies with DEST Specification 4.3.4 for the peer review process. Each article is, prior to publication, reviewed in its entirety by a qualified expert who is independent of the author.

Style

1. Levels of headings should be clearly indicated (no more than four levels).

2. Cases:

- Case citation follows case name. Where a case is cited in the text, the citation should follow immediately rather than as a footnote. Give at least two and preferably all available citations, the first listed being the authorised reference.
- Australian citations should appear in the following order: authorised series; Lawbook Co/ATP series; other company series (ie CCH, Butterworths); media neutral citation.
- “At” references should only refer to the best available citation, eg: Mabo v Queensland [No 2] (1992) 175 CLR 1 at 34; 66 ALJR 408; 107 ALR 1.
- Where only a media neutral citation is available, “at” references should be to paragraph, eg: YG v Minister for Community Services [2002] NSWCA 247 at [19].
- For international cases best references only should be included.

3. Legislation should be cited as follows:

Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth), s 51AC. The full citation should be repeated in footnotes.

4. Books should be cited as follows:

Macken JJ, O’Grady P, Sappideen C and Warburton G, The Law of Employment (5th ed, Lawbook Co, 2002) p 55.

- In footnotes do not use ibid or op cit. The following style is preferred:
 - 4. Austin RP, “Constructive Trusts” in Finn PD (ed), Essays in Equity (Law Book Co, 1985).
 - 5. Austin, n 4, p 56.

5. Journals should be cited as follows:

- Odgers S, “Police Interrogation: A Decade of Legal Development” (1990) 14 Crim LJ 220.
- Wherever possible use official abbreviations not the full name for journal titles.
- In footnotes do not use ibid or op cit. The following style is preferred:
 - 6. Sheehy EA, Stubbs J and Tolmie J, “Defending Battered Women on Trial: The Battered Woman Syndrome and its Limitations” (1992) 16 Crim LJ 220.
 - 7. Sheehy et al, n 6 at 221.

6. Internet references should be cited as follows:

- Rickatson S, The Law of Intellectual Property: Copyright, Designs and Confidential Information (Lawbook Co, subscription service) at [16.340], <http://subscriber.lawbookco.com.au> viewed 25 June 2002. Underline the URL and include the date the document was viewed.
