How lawyers and family dispute resolution practitioners can assist families work towards cooperative parenting arrangements – Donna Cooper and Mieke Brandon
The compulsory dispute resolution requirements in family law parenting cases create new roles and obligations for both lawyers and family dispute resolution (FDR) practitioners. This article discusses how the legislative provisions impact on both sets of professionals in practice. It also highlights the increased importance of the dispute resolution advocacy role of lawyers and a new role for FDR practitioners as “gatekeepers” to family courts in cases requiring FDR certificates. ....	85
Preserving a facilitative process in family dispute resolution – Mieke Brandon
Recent amendments to family law regulations mean that family dispute resolution practitioners will be required to demonstrate their skills, knowledge and attitudes in line with a facilitative approach to dispute resolution for separating or separated parents. This article concentrates on the “facilitative” aspects of this requirement, and sets out the elements of what competencies may be considered facilitative. Two case studies are used as an exercise to address practitioners’ understanding and reflection of how they might use a dispute resolution process to facilitate an outcome. ....	96

Peer review

- Contributors have the option of having their articles peer reviewed prior to acceptance and publication. Each peer-reviewed article will be reviewed in its entirety by a suitably qualified expert who is independent of the author. Reviewers are not given the names or firm details/institutional affiliations of authors and vice versa.

Style

1. Levels of headings must be clearly indicated (no more than four levels).
2. Unpointed style is to be used – there are no full stops after any abbreviation or contraction.
3. Cases:
  - Where a case is cited in the text, the citation follows immediately after the case name, not as a footnote.
  - Authorised reports must be cited where published, and one other reference can be used in addition.
  - For “at” references use media-neutral paragraph numbers within square brackets whenever available.
  - For international cases best references only should be used.
4. Legislation is cited as follows:
  - Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth), s 51AC (including in full within footnotes).
5. Books are cited as follows:
  - Ross D, Ross on Crime (3rd ed, Lawbook Co, Sydney, 2006) pp 100-101.
  - In footnotes do not use ibid or op cit. Repeat author surname and add footnote reference to first mention.
    - <sup>1</sup> Hayton D, “Unique Rules for the Unique Institution, The Trust” in Degeling S and Edelman J (eds), Equity in Commercial Law (Lawbook Co, Sydney, 2005) p 284.
    - <sup>2</sup> Hayton, n 1, p 286.
6. Journals are cited as follows:
