

WORKPLACE REVIEW

Volume 1, Number 2

September 2010

EDITORIAL	43
FOCUS ON: QUEENSLAND
Sandy Horneman-Wren looks at informality in tribunal hearings	45
ARTICLES
Transitioning to modern awards – Aaron Allegretto	47
When will FWA vary a modern award? – Aaron Allegretto	50
Kirk v Workcover and specialisation in the law – Emmanuel Kerkyasharian	52
FEATURE ARTICLE
Blackmagic in the Federal Court – Stephanie Vass and Brett Watson
The Federal Court of Australia has upheld prohibitions against employees using confidential information gained in the course of their employment in Blackmagic Design Pty Ltd v Ian Overliese, Jeromy Young, Atomos Audio Pty Ltd and Clare Young (2010) 84 IPR 505. The judgment is also important as it emphasised the need for employers to be specific when creating non-competition and copyright obligations for employees under employment contracts.	54
INTERVIEW
Soaring beyond the industrial landscape: Justice Stephen Craig Rothman on democratic rights and the ever-changing face of Australian workplace law – by Azadeh Khalilizadeh	58
JEFF PHILLIPS ON THE CASE
The revenge of Ronald McDonald	61
STANDPOINTS
Paid parental leave – A new political battleground?	63
FROM THE WORLD OF HR
A time for reflection – Edward Arena	67
WORK HEALTH AND SAFETY
Learning from disasters: BP Deepwater Horizon explosion and oil spill – Alena Titterton	69

DISCRIMINATION
Age – Cut of the blade – Phoebe Arcus	73
THE LAST WORD...
IR law firms – A changing landscape	75
DIARY	77
INDEX	78